EDWIN N. WHITNEY

DERRY, N. H.,

Republican Candidate for County Commissioner at Primaries Sept. 6th.

A vote for Mr. Whitney means good clean management of our County affairs.

Voters of Rockingham County

I am willing to compare my legislative record with any man who is a candidate for office in the County. During the sessions of the legislatures of 1908 and 1909 I introduced the following bills, viz: All goods manufactured in whole or in part, by contract, labor, to be so stamped, when offered for sale; also a bill requiring all railroads in this state to issue five hundred mile mileage book for ten dollars; also a bill requiring all hotels, large lodging-houses, public halls and factories to be equipped with fire escapes, and making it a serious offense if the owner neglected to comply with the law.

I worked in behalf of the fifty-eight hour law although told by a representative of corporations that if I made a speech in behalf the measure I could consider myself politically dead. I defied them by making a speech in behalf of the Fifty-Eight Hour Bill. I have always done all in my power in behalf of the workmen, and shall continue to do so. If nominated and elected County Commissioner, shall do all I can to lower the county tax and will give every citizen a square deal. I shall not be controlled by Wetherall or any other member of the machine.

Derry, Sept. 2, 1910.

ALBERT E. SHUTE

To the Voters and Taxpayers of Rockingham County

At the earnest solicitation of many Republicans throughout Rockingham County, I announced some time ago that I would be a candidate for County Commissioner at the primaries to be held September 6th, and in due time filed my application as such candidate.

This action on my part was done at the request of many of the leading taxpayers of the county, who believe that county affairs should be conducted with the same economy that one would conduct his own business interests.

If nominated and elected to the responsible office of County Commissioner, it will be my aim to conduct the business in this manner and prove that there are no unnecessary expenditures. I have made no promises to any clique or faction, and if elected shall be free to do as my conscience dictates.

I shall endeavor to administer the affairs of the office in such a manner that the best interests of the people of the county will be served.

I respectfully appeal to the Republican voters of this county to go to the primaries on Tuesday, September 6th, and support me.

Portsmouth, N. H., August 31, 1910.

NORMAN H. BEANE

A CANDIDATE'S FAMILY

Mrs. Helen Phillips Burroughs and Three of Her Four Boys

In a modest little home in Hazel street, Manchester, three small boys will sit up until all hours next Tuesday night to hear what the other Republicans of this First Congressional District have done about sending their papa to Congress. They are Robert Phillips Burroughs, 10 years old, John Hamilton Burroughs, 9 years old, and Sherman Everett Burroughs, Jr., 7 years old.

The baby of the family, Henry Baker Burroughs, hasn't begun to take an interest in Republican primaries yet; or, in fact, in any primary. Henry Baker is only two years old. Perhaps that is why he isn't in the picture.

Mrs. Burroughs was a Virginia girl, Helen S. Phillips of Alexandria county. They were married on April 21, 1895. On being graduated from Dartmouth with high honors in 1894, Mr. Burroughs entered upon the study of the law in the office of Sargent and Hollis, at Concord, but in the December following he went to Washington, D. C., as private secretary to his kinsman, Gen. Henry M. Baker, representative in Congress from the Second New Hampshire District.

He continued his legal studies in Washington, graduating, I. L. B., from the Columbian (now George Washington) University in July, 1896, and receiving the degree of Master of Laws in 1897.

He was admitted to the District of Columbia bar in 1896 and the New Hampshire bar in 1897, in August of which year he commenced the practice of law in Manchester, continuing by himself until July 1, 1901, when he joined in partnership with Hon. David A. Taggart and Hon. James P. Tuttle, Representative Louis E. Wyman being subsequently admitted to the firm, which has become one of the best known and most successful in the New Hampshire metropolis, and to whose success, says the current number of the Granite Monthly, Mr. Burroughs has contributed his full share.

BASS QUESTIONED BY RAILROAD WORKMEN

They Ask Him If He is Not Dodging Taxes On His Millions

Concord, Sept. 3.—The following open letter to Messrs. Bass and Chandler has been issued:

To Messrs. Bass and Chandler: It appears to us you are trying to get votes by promising to increase the taxes of the railroad, and that you are wholly reckless in the statements which you make. If you succeed in raising the taxes of the railroad, and that you are out of the employments. It is all right for you to raise the taxes of the railroad if they are taxed less than they fairly ought to be; but if they are paying their share the workmen, we believe, will not favor your plan for an increase.

You are advertising in the newspapers that the property of the railroad is assessed at only 50 per cent. of its value, and that the voters' property is assessed at 75 per cent. of its value. Both statements are erroneous, as you could ascertain if you would look at the report of tax commission of 1908 and the reports of the board of equalization for 1908 and 1909. The facts as shown by these reports (and they are the authority on the subject, for their makers investigated the subject because it was their duty, while your investigation, if you made one, was for political purposes) are as follows:

The tax commission of 1908 after an extended and impartial investigation of this subject, on page 22 of their report, said:

"To summarize it appears that ordinary real estate is assessed at about 70 per cent. of full value; timber land, when assessed, at about 30 per cent.; stocks in trade of merchants at about 55 per cent; live stock 55 per cent; industrial and mercantile corporations 24 per cent; while not one-tenth of the money and securities is taxed at all, and large values in timber escape as well."

On page 77 of the tax commission's report, referring to untaxed mortgages, between Jan. 1, 1907 and April 1, 1908, it is said:

"The mortgage notes executed during the fifteen months amount to $3,116,292, while the amount returned for taxation is but $309,212, or about 10 per cent."

On page 19 of the tax commission's report, in speaking of the taxation of railroads, they say:

"If it be admitted that railroad property is not assessed at full value, from the data gathered of the assessment of other property in the state, it is an open question at least whether the owners of railroads are not bearing nearly, if not quite, their fair proportion of the taxes now levied."

Since the above was stated by the tax commission the taxation valuation on the Boston and Maine railroad properties in 1909 was increased $6,915,000, an increase of 22.3 per cent and the increased taxes were $234,178.29, an average increase of 58.8 per cent.

Taking the taxation of all the railroads of the state it will be found that the increased valuation in 1909

Candidate for County Commissioner at the Primaries Sept. 6th Solicits Your Support.

Cyrus A. Sulloway...

Here is a sample, among a peck of old letters, just to nail the lie that Mr. Sulloway has done nothing for this Navy Yard. You will see that it was from the Navy Department to him during his summer vacation even.

Navy Department, Washington, D.C., July 25, 1906.

My Dear Sir—Yours of the 23d instant, in relation to constructing the spars of the U. S. S. CONSTITUTION at the Navy Yard, Portsmouth, N. H., duly received. The Bureau already has this matter under consideration, and is now in a position to advise you that it will direct that such of these spars as can be made at the Navy Yard, Portsmouth, N. H., will be constructed at that yard.

With respect to the outfit for the battleship NEW HAMPSHIRE, the Bureau has had that matter under consideration also, and will shortly issue instructions to the effect that so much of the furniture and equipment of the New Hampshire as has not already been provided for will be built at the Navy Yard, Portsmouth, N. H.

Sincerely yours, W. L. CAPPS.

Hon. C. A. Sulloway, Manchester, N. H.

It isn't much encouragement for our Senators and Congressmen to work for this yard if we, here in Portsmouth, fail to appreciate what they do for us, or even what they try to do.

EXETER

Exeter, Sept. 3.—While returning home from the Ellis rally at the town hall Thursday evening, Mr. and Mrs. Burley Hills, who live two miles on the Newfields road, in the intense darkness, came in contact with a team on the way up from Newfields, and driven by Bert Webster and Alexander Davidson. The occupants of both were badly shaken up and Mr. and Mrs. Hills were thrown out, but no serious injury inflicted. Both wagons were also badly demolished in the crash, the cross bar and shafts of the Hills team being broken, and from the other the horse cleared itself.

This town, which has always stood high in sporting circles, will maintain its reputation and send a skilled delegation to compete in the annual state golf championship, which is to be held at Manchester on Monday of next week. Foremost of the representatives is Capt. Arthur F. Cooper, who is one of the leading players in this section, and made a strong bid for honors at the Abenagut tournament held at Rye last week; and the other is L. M. Crosby, an instructor in the Phillips-Exeter academy, who is also an adept with the golf sticks.

Mrs. Dana W. Baker, accompanied by her daughters, Misses Florence and Beatrice, are spending a period at the Colonial house at Center Harbor.

At the home of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Roberts, in Goffstown, their daughter, Miss Susan M. Roberts, was quietly married on Wednesday, August 31, to Mr. Wilhelm Segerblom of Exeter. The groom is instructor in chemistry at the Phillips-Exeter academy and the bride has recently been in the millinery business in Exeter. The couple were unattended. Only the immediate families were present, the single exception being Miss Nellie Rollins, recent business partner with Miss Roberts. Mr. and Mrs. Segerblom will reside in Exeter.

The examination of non-resident pupils for admission to the Exeter high school will take place at the high school rooms on Saturday, Sept. 10, at nine o'clock in the morning. The subjects covered by the examination will be spelling, English, composition, grammar, history of the United States, arithmetic, geography and physiology and hygiene, the last with special reference to the use of narcotics and alcoholic stimulants. Candidates under fifteen years of age must present a statement from their late teacher certifying that they have completed the program of the elementary schools, or are otherwise duly prepared for the examination.

A Boston and Maine painters' car is sidetracked at the station. The company is repainting and otherwise improving its two tenements near the Park street bridge.

In Chelsea, Mass., August 28, occurred the marriage of Miss Florence H. T. Cram, daughter of Mrs. Helen B. Cram, and Mr. Samuel S. Hoyt, son of the late Mrs. Emma F. Hoyt, Rev. William A. Hadley officiating. The bride will be pleasantly remembered as a former resident of Exeter.

The Woman's Christian Temperance Union will meet with Mrs. Jennie L. Sanford 105 Front street, Wednesday afternoon at three o'clock. Officers will be elected.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Laframboise, Jr., of Salem, Mass., will return home Monday after spending two weeks with his parents on Park street.

The Sunday service at West End hall, which was omitted during August, will be held as usual next Sunday afternoon at three o'clock.

The preparatory lecture was given on Friday evening at the First church. The usual services will be resumed next Sunday.

Rev. and Mrs. Edward Green have returned from their summer home at Madison. Services at the Unitarian church will be resumed on Sunday.

Rev. Ansley E. Woodsum, who has returned from his vacation, had charge of the meeting at the Baptist church Friday evening and will preach on Sunday.

Thompson and daughter are visiting in Newton this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wentworth, the former clerk at the Morrison store, are spending a vacation at Fredericton, N. B.

The primary election will be held at the town hall next Tuesday, opening at 10 a. m. Sample ballots

Against American Labor

When Sherman E. Burroughs commented last week on the fact that Congressman Sulloway had voted to increase the duty on stockings, Mr. Sulloway rushed into print over his own signature to proclaim that Mr. Burroughs was "taking the stand against American labor."

Mr. Sulloway said at that time, you may remember, that he was proud of having voted for a higher duty on stockings because his vote had helped to open the hosiery mills and had given employment to idle hands. We asked him why it hadn't acted that way on the cotton mills, and Mr. Sulloway hasn't answered us.

I was anxious to find out something about Mr. Sulloway's credentials as a spokesman for American labor, and on Thursday I wired Mr. Samuel Gompers at Washington to ask for it. Friday night I received the following reply from the distinguished President of the American Federation of Labor:

Washington, D. C., Sept. 2.

Herbert E. Dunnington, Manchester, N. H.

Telegram received.

Answering, I will say that Mr. Sulloway voted to repeal the Eight Hour Law at Panama.

He voted for an objectionable amendment to the Railroad Men's Hours-of-Service Bill.

He voted for the Ship Subsidy bill, and an objectionable conscription provision in the bill, all of which were against Labor.

He neglected to vote on the Child Labor Bill

He neglected to vote on the Employers' Liability Bill, for the Territory of New Mexico, which was advocated by Labor.

He voted for compulsory investigation of labor disputes, in opposition to Labor.

(Signed)

SAMUEL GOMPERS.

I have no comment to make on this telegram. It seems to me that it speaks for itself. Wage earners know who Mr. Gompers is. They will be interested in knowing what Mr. Gompers thinks of the Hon. Cyrus A. Sulloway as a champion of American Labor.

He neglected to vote on the Child Labor Bill!

He voted for an objectionable amendment to the Railroad Men's Hours-of-Service Bill!

Not once, but often, Cyrus A. Sulloway has taken the stand against American Labor!

PORTSMOUTH SHOWS HOSPITALITY

The Manchester delegates who attended the state convention of the Ancient Order of Hibernians and its Ladies' Auxiliary at Portsmouth this week returned yesterday afternoon with glowing reports of the success of the meeting and with praise for the hospitality with which the visiting delegates were received in Portsmouth. The Manchester party numbered over 20.

On Tuesday evening they were entertained at a minstrel show and a dance, and on Wednesday evening were entertained at a banquet. On Thursday, as a final treat before their return home, the delegates were shown through the Portsmouth navy yard and were much interested in the sights there to be seen. They hope to return the courtesies shown them when the order comes to Manchester for its next biennial convention in 1911.—Manchester Mirror.

DOCTRINE OF ROOSEVELT

In Consonance With That of Democratic Party

IS LOOKING TOWARD 1912

New England Observers Think He Will Be Nominated by Republican "Progressives" and Democratic Radicals—Pledged to Revision of Tariff, a Schedule at a Time—In Opposition to Taft in Many Ways

Beverly, Mass., Sept. 3.—Study of the utterances of Theodore Roosevelt during his remarkable tour of the west is convincing those who will think along lines of straight Republicanism that his attitude is in consonance with that of the Democratic party. It is thought by many that he has already laid the foundation for his nomination by two parties in 1912—namely, the Republican "progressives" and the Democratic radicals.

New England observers who have studied the speeches of Roosevelt between the lines point out that he has already stolen the robe of William J. Bryan, who is now, temporarily at least, in eclipse as a political factor in his own state and in other quarters of the west where he was once most strongly supported.

Mr. Roosevelt has already denounced the supreme court of the United States in terms even as violent as those employed in the Chicago platform of 1896. He has indicated what makes a "reactionary" newspaper, in an informal reply to the New York Evening Post made at Cheyenne—support of Judge Parker in 1904 and opposition to William J. Bryan. In 1908. Finally he has accepted the Democratic position on the tariff and the tariff board.

It will be recalled that the Democrats in congress voted against the $250,000 appropriation for the tariff board appointed by President Taft and declared in their speeches for a revision of the tariff. To such revision of the tariff, but a schedule at a time, is Roosevelt pledged. He has told more than one man that he was an agnostic on the tariff. But he declares the tariff wrong.

While President Taft's position is that he would favor revision of a certain schedule when the tariff board completes its work and when it has shown that the tariff is wrong, Roosevelt's position appears to be that it must be wrong.

But the significant thing is that Roosevelt has placed himself in opposition to the president in many ways. Several New York Republicans have recently said that they expected Roosevelt to endorse the president at the Saratoga convention, which is to begin on Sept. 27. But it is now evident that the Roosevelt supporters in New York are "between the devil and the deep sea."

They say that if Roosevelt makes many more speeches like that at Denver, where he denounced the supreme court of the United States, and like that at Oasawatomie, where he laid down a new platform against property, it will be very difficult to elect him temporary chairman even though the delegates should be opposed to Vice President Sherman.

Indeed, one very prominent New Yorker says that while Roosevelt would get a majority of the delegates for temporary chairman, it would be not because of him but because the thinking Republicans of the state desired to see the "old guard" beaten in order that the state might go Republican and thus endorse the Taft administration.

WITHOUT KNOWN MOTIVE

Unknown Sluggish Makes Attack on Girl Which May Cost Her Life

Canton, Mass., Sept. 3.—The same strange man, a haunter of dark lanes, who has approached solitary women, frightened young girls on their way to their homes after nightfall, and terrorized outlying housekeepers within the last few days, is charged with a brutal assault on Katherine A. Kelly, made shortly after midnight, and which may cost the girl's life.

The assault took place at a lonely spot half a mile from the girl's home, as she was returning from Worcester. At the hospital it is said she has only a small chance for recovery.

The police declare that the case offers some of the most baffling features which they have ever encountered in cases of the sort, as they have been unable up to the present to establish a motive for the crime.

EARL GREY OF CANADA

Governor General Who Explored a Wilderness

GREY'S TRIP COMPLETED

Traveled Nearly Three Thousand Miles Through Wilds of Canada

Montreal, Sept. 3.—A wireless was received here from Indian Harbor, Labrador, briefly stating that the government steamer Earl Grey with Earl Grey, the governor general of Canada, and his party on board, have arrived safely there after their long journey by canoe and portage through the wilds of northern Canada. All are well.

The governor general was away over a month and traveled a distance of nearly 3000 miles.

IN THE SPANISH TONGUE

Guild's Address Will Be Unusual Compliment to Mexico

Washington, Sept. 3.—President Taft, in honoring former Governor Guild of Massachusetts with the appointment as his special representative in attendance upon the Mexican centenary celebration, selected a man who long ago demonstrated his tact and diplomacy in his relations with alien peoples.

The friends of Guild here predict that he will make a pronounced hit with the people of Mexico, for he has addressed the skill of his scholarship to the pleasant task of making himself persona grata with our virile neighbors on the southwest.

In other words Guild will pay President Diaz of Mexico the compliment, unusual for an American, of addressing him officially in the Spanish language. A formal address with which he will honor President Diaz at the luncheon he will give to that official during his sojourn will be couched in the tongue of Castile.

CHARGES AGAINST CHOATE ARE DROPPED

Petition to American Bar Association Is Withdrawn

Chattanooga, Sept. 3.—George W. Chamblee, who presented a petition at a meeting of the American Bar association in this city said to contain charges against Joseph H. Choate of New York, asked leave to withdraw the petition.

This action followed the reading of resolutions adopted by the Chattanooga bar association expressing regret at the alleged attack on Choate by a member of the local association. The request was referred to the grievance committee along with the petition. It is improbable that the matter will be brought up again.

The convention came to a close with a banquet. In an address by E. A. Farrar of New Orleans, the new president of the association, he severely arraigned Theodore Roosevelt for his policy of nationalism. He declared that the policies enunciated by Roosevelt in his Kansas City speech portended danger to the nation and urged the association to stand out against Roosevelt and Rooseveltism.

SCHOOL COMES AFTER HOME

As Fountain of Moral and Religious Training

A TRIBUTE TO TEACHERS

Church and Its Auxiliaries Recognized as Coworkers With Schools in Resolutions Adopted by Sagamore Conference—High School Dances Are Roundly Denounced by Boston Men, Who See Disipation in Them

Sagamore Beach, Mass., Sept. 3.—Resolutions adopted at the closing session of the conference on the moral and religious training of the young declare that "religious and moral training is an essential part of education" and that it is "a great civic duty to stand for and be aggressive in securing what is called the better city, the better and cleaner town and village." The resolutions continue:

"As the seventeenth century discovered the place of woman in society, the morning of the twentieth century is discovering the place of the child. We welcome the new emphasis upon child life and training as one of the most hopeful signs of the day. After the home, which must, of course, be the first fountain of moral and religious training, we recognize the public school as a great asset to this end.

"We make public record of our particular satisfaction in the generally high character and purpose of the great body of our teachers in our public schools and in our colleges. We recognize the church and its auxiliary agencies as coworkers toward the best end.

"Religious and moral training is an essential part of education, without which no education is complete.

"As environment into which the young are thrust does so much to make or mar, we believe it to be a great civic duty to stand for and be aggressive in securing what is called the better city, the better and cleaner town and village."

Resolutions of thanks to Rev. Dr. Francis E. Clark for calling and entertaining the conference also were adopted.

In the last address of the conference here Dr. H. S. Pomeroy of Boston made a severe attack on high school dancing. He said:

"We are not considering the question of dancing and secret societies for those in adult life, but those of high school age, which is essentially another matter. It is pretty nearly the truth to say that the individual's ethical, moral and religious status is fixed during the four years of high school life. This is the time when nature, having completed the essential development of the young individual as a child, accomplishes the subtle and unspeakably important task of differentiating conscious sex, confirming temperament and offering the supreme choice of the soul, one path leading up, the other down.

"The high school young person is in a critical time highly susceptible to suggestion of every form. How supremely important that now the atmosphere in which the child-adult shall be calm, serene, pure and positive shall be calm, serene, pure and positive."

"Ask the candid, experienced high school teacher what is the trouble in three cases out of four that the pupil gets poor marks or drops down and out, and the answer will be in just one word, 'dissipation.' Ask the candid family physician what is usually behind a nervous breakdown among the high school scholars and first and foremost he will tell you over-excitement, too little sleep, too much 'fudge.'

"As regards dancing, many parents approve of it on general principles. Few matters of intense human interest suffer more from hasty generalization than just this one of high school dancing. In general a high school dance means late hours, glaring lights, hot rooms, seductive music, great excitement, almost invariably the presence of some young men who are not fit to look upon your daughters, much less touch them. Very often what the parents believe to be a strictly high school dance is really a subscription dance to which almost any young man may gain entrance who has a gentlemanly deportment, an evening suit and the fee."

Bandit Leader Mandao Is Closely Pressed by the Constabulary

Manila, Sept. 3.—Hard pressed by constabulary, Simeon Mandao, the bandit leader, is making a last stand in the hills of Nueva Viscaya, according to dispatches received here. It is believed that a battle is a matter of a few hours.

The troops are aided by natives, who wish to throw off the yoke of the lawless leader. Four Belgian and one Egyptian priest have been freed by Mandao, so close are his pursuers.

AVERAGES 32.8 KNOTS AN HOUR

Paulding Proves Herself to Be Fastest Destroyer

IS OIL-BURNING VESSEL

Beats Any Naval Ship in the World Not Built Especially For Speed—Maintains Average of Over Nine Hundred Revolutions a Minute in Four-Hour Run at Top Speed on Course Off Coast of Maine

Bath, Me., Sept. 3.—Not only placing herself in the limelight as the fastest destroyer in the American navy, but the fastest naval vessel in the world not built especially for speed, the new oil burning torpedo boat destroyer Paulding, built by the Bath Iron Works, exceeded her contract requirements of 29.5 knots by 3.3 knots, maintaining an average of 32.8 knots an hour during her four-hour run at top speed.

This was the final test in her official trials. She already has proved herself an able sea boat, and members of the trial board declare that she is fully able to combat the heaviest of seas.

Comparisons with the coal-burning destroyers Flusser and Reid, built by the same concern and given their trials a year ago, are most interesting. They were in the 28-knot class, the Flusser exceeding it by making 31.86 knots and the Reid by making 31.86 knots. The only other oil-burning destroyer thus far given her official trials is the Roo, which made 29.6 knots. Reducing the record of the Paulding to statute figures, it reaches almost thirty-eight land miles an hour.

The destroyer left her dock here and steamed to Seguin island, at the mouth of the Kennebec river, and thence going about it to the westward she headed to the east, going as far down as Bluehill. Then she turned and ended her run three miles west of Seguin. There was almost no sea running and trial conditions were excellent.

The Paulding maintained an average of 908 revolutions per minute. Her average run for the first hour was 32.97 knots, for the second 32.75 knots, for the third 32.81 and for the final 32.93. Her fastest 15-minute speed was at the rate of 33 knots.

The Paulding will be ready for delivery to the navy department in about three weeks. At that time her sister ship, the Drayton, will be ready for trial.

SMITH LEADS AS USUAL

Two Laffs and One Tear in New York City's Latest Directory

New York, Sept. 3.—One of the six best sellers, the city directory, is out again. The entertaining volume contains two Laffs and one Tear.

The original Mr. Smith has 3312 relatives this year. Brown runs second with 1600, and Jones has only 850.

Prohibitionists may be glad there are only 2 Drunkers, 1 Booz, 2 Boozers and 1 Drunkwine. Mr. Pickle may be included, but Mr. Drinkwater balances the account. Looking closer we find 30 Beers, 10 Schnapps and 16 Seltzers. There are 9 Batts.

Passing on to the next cage one sees 2 Beans in front of 2 Beers, 20 Beavers and 4 Mules. Near them are 130 Cranies, 4 Ravens, 15 Robins, 9 Ratts and 80 Fishes. They are surrounded by numerous Hogs, Goats, Pigs and Wolves, one Rabbit and a Cow. The latter is a policeman, which is appropriate, as policeman in slang are "bulls."

There is just one Catt. There are five times as many Wilds as Woollys. Out of 11 names there are 4 Losers, 6 Winners and 1 Even.

ECONOMY THE WATCHWORD

President Taft and General Wood Talk Over Army Estimates

Beverly, Mass., Sept. 3.—General Leonard Wood, chief of staff, U. S. A., was in conference with President Taft for several hours on the estimates for the next fiscal year. It is the announced intention of the general and the president to keep the army expenses to as low a figure as is compatible with the efficiency of the service.

At present, more officers are needed, and to meet this added expense it is understood that great care will be taken to ask congress to appropriate for only the absolute necessities of the service.

HELD FOR MURDER

Man and Wife Accused of Strangling a Four-Year-Old Boy

Kingsford, N. Y., Sept. 3.—Vincenzo Crauso and his wife were arrested in connection with the murder of 4-year old Peter Fabian, whose body, from which life had been strangled with powerful hands, was found in an outbuilding of his parents' home in Porterville.

The child had been missing several days, and it was believed kidnappers were holding him for ransom.

END OF CLOAK STRIKE

It Proves to Have Been Very Costly For Everyone Concerned

New York, Sept. 3.—The cloak-makers' strike, one of the greatest industrial disturbances in the history of American labor, was settled last night. Seventy thousand garment workers, who have been idle for nine weeks, will shortly return to work.

Ten thousand of them and those dependent on them—50,000 souls in all—were on the point of eviction, and hundreds of them had already been forced into the streets.

Statistics of the strike, briefly summed up, follow: Length of strike, nine weeks; number of strikers, 70,000; persons affected, 150,000; estimated loss in wages, $10,000,000; estimated total loss to strikers and business interests, $10,000,000.

Points won by strikers: End of sweat shops and "preferential union shops," wherein all union standards and requirements as to wages, time, etc., shall be maintained.

Point won by employers: Open shop with freedom of selection of employees when necessary skilled union labor is not available.

"DISCOVERED AN EMPIRE"

Wickersham Enthusiastic Over the Possibilities in Alaska

Cordova, Alaska, Sept. 3.—Attorney General Wickersham and Secretary of Commerce and Labor Nagel have called for Seattle on the government steamer Albatross on the last leg of a trip through Alaska that has occupied more than a month. The Albatross is due at Seattle Monday.

"We came to see a little place called Alaska but discovered an empire," said Wickersham. "I realize more and more the importance of opening the coal lands and after we have had a talk with the president he may have some recommendation that will result in straightening out the present tangle."

"The one great necessity of Alaska is railroad transportation, as upon it depends the adequate development of Alaska's mines and agricultural lands. It is evident that this transportation cannot be furnished until the coal lands are opened up, for cheap coal is required to operate a railroad. I am in hopes that something will be done in this matter this winter."

ROOSEVELT CUTS PLANS IN OMAHA

People Have But Little Opportunity to Look at Him

Omaha, Sept. 3.—All that Theodore Roosevelt did yesterday was to attend a breakfast given by the Roosevelt reception committee, a luncheon at the Field club, a dinner at the Omaha club, an entertainment given by the official boomers' club of Omaha, take an automobile ride and make three speeches.

Several other things had been planned, but in his behalf a telegram was sent from Kansas City saying that he was tired and needed a day of rest.

SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 3, 1910.

AT THE PRIMARIES

The most pressing matter before the people of New Hampshire just now is the choice of Republican candidates to be supported at the state election in November.

The Democratic apathy has made it certain that the Republicans are to carry the state and be responsible for the conduct of affairs. When the Republican voter goes to the polls in the primary election on Tuesday, September 6, he will vote not merely on the question of who shall be his party's candidates for governor, congressmen, councilors, senators, representatives to the legislature, etc., but on who shall be the next governor, the next congressmen, and a majority each in the next council, senate and house of representatives.

Let the votes be for men such as will take care of the state's interests. They have a rare opportunity to select a gubernatorial candidate who is both a successful business man in the conduct of his own affairs and a man of wide experience in state affairs.

Of course, in voting for congressman, the first interest of Portsmouth people is that of the great government industry located here, and the thought of the voters in the effect upon the navy yard which will come from the acts of the representative in Washington.

AMONG OUR EXCHANGES

Which Shall It Be?

There are no issues as to state policies on which the Republicans of New Hampshire are divided. All are practically united as to the importance of just methods of taxation, reasonable control of public service corporations, forest conservation, and prudent administration of state affairs. No man or coterie of men have any exclusive proprietary interest in these or other ideas and policies which Republicans throughout the state fully accept and believe in. On Tuesday next the Republicans of New Hampshire are to choose between two candidates for governor; one, a man with a known record in public affairs, who has a wide knowledge of state affairs and who has shown a conspicuous capacity for wise leadership; the other a man with comparatively little experience in state affairs, who has yet to show that capacity for handling measures and men so important for a governor to possess. An inefficient governor can do little in the way of drawing legislation from the two houses of the legislature. An efficient, far-sighted governor can do much in that direction. —Somersworth Free Press

Roosevelt's Attack on Supreme Court There could not be a more striking illustration of Col. Roosevelt's capacity for error than is to be found in his attack upon the supreme court of the United States at Denver Monday. His criticisms indicated a total misapprehension of the constitutional doctrine which empowers the highest tribunal in the land to annul legislative enactments under certain circumstances, and declare statutes to be void and of no effect. When the supreme court of the United States exercises this power it is obeying the voice of the people in the highest sense. This proposition is absolutely true, and yet it is very little understood. A Constitution in the only law we have which is adopted and enacted by the people themselves. It is the highest law—the fundamental law—which the people have declared shall be supreme over all other laws and shall control wherever there is any conflict. When, therefore, the supreme court of the United States adjudges an act of congress or a state statute to be unconstitutional that tribunal merely determines that such act of congress or such statute is in conflict with the will of the people and hence its enforcement is not to be tolerated. —New York Sun.

Those Winnepesaukee Lobsters Another fresh water lobster is reported from Meredith Bay in Lake Winnepesaukee this week. This is the third specimen of the banded lobster family that has been taken from Winnepesaukee, and salt water experts who have seen the specimen pronounce them genuine lobsters. The theory is that a crate of live lobsters which were lost overboard from a steamer a few years ago, are breeding in the fresh water. And anyway these lobster stories are more attractive than the state sea serpent stories which are used to boom some summer resorts. —Lancaster Democrat.

A TIMELY TOPIC.

ARTHUR F. SHELDON, Of the Chicago School Salesmanship.

A SQUARE DEAL IN BUSINESS

CO-OPERATION is better than the cutthroat method in business and while competition is the life of trade it is likely to be the death of profit. Business men guard a successful method jealously, instead of communicating it to others from a mistaken notion, for as one gives, so one has.

The problem of distribution may be divided into four elements—the seller, the buyer, the thing sold and the sale. The basic laws of success pertain to these four laws and the sales department is the funnel through which all things go out to the world. There are four grades of men in business—the indifferent employee, the student, the adept, and the master who gathers all the energies under one head and directs the scheme.

The "square deal" pays in business as in everything else. There's money in it. While advertising pays, the best advertisement is the grateful tongue of the satisfied customer. There are two sides to the great question of the employer and the employed. There is a humanity department in business and the merchant should be considerate of his workman, and the workman who does not appreciate such consideration is unworthy.

CHIEF ENTWISTLE TALKS A LITTLE But Has Not Much to Say on the Situation in the Councilor District

Up to date Thomas Entwistle is still chief of police of Portsmouth regardless of the requests made to the police commissioners and to himself personally that he resign as the official head of the police department by Edward Bewley, who quotes the law in his communications. On the matter stating that as chief of police he cannot hold any other elective office. The Herald reporter today made a call on the chief and asked if he had anything to offer in reply to the request made by Mr. Bewley but he declined to give any lengthy statement for publication. He said there was nothing for him to say further than that he had no reason for retiring from his present position as he had not been elected to any office by the republican party. The people said he have made this nomination and if they did not want mo they would not have taken such action.

"What will be the result later in case you are elected as councilor." "I'll take care of my interests when the proper time comes." The chief appeared in excellent spirits and did not seem wrapped up in any worryment over the fight in the primaries on election day. In looking over the endorsement of labor unions it appears that Chief Entwistle has as much, if not a little more, than some of the several candidates of the democratic and republican parties.

In the August number of the Trades Unionist, a publication devoted to the interests of the wage earners of the state, and under the heading of "Just the Truth—That's All" appears the following:

"Senator Thomas Entwistle of Portsmouth is a candidate for the office of councilor in the First district. 'Tom' Entwistle, as he has been known ever since he worked in a cotton mill at Portsmouth when but nine years of age, has been a friend to those who have to struggle for a living, has often assisted in securing the passage of measures which are of benefit to the wage earners of New Hampshire. He is a republican. Two years ago he received the unanimous endorsement of the Portsmouth Central Labor Union, when a candidate for a third term to the state senate.

BURROUGHS AGAINST SHIP SUBSIDY

To Republican Voters: Mr. Burroughs in his advertisements says that in voting for Senator Gallinger's ship subsidy bill, I voted against labor, and quotes a telegram from Samuel Compers to that effect. What do you think of that, Mr. Voter? Every republican platform for many years has contained a plank in favor of ship subsidy. It is of vital interest to the people of Portsmouth, and there has been no measure pending in Congress for years that would tend so much towards the commercial development of Portsmouth as the ship subsidy bill. Every resident of the city, regardless of politics, has a deep interest in this measure which means so much for New Hampshire's only seaport. The position taken by Mr. Burroughs with Samuel Compers, democrat, on this great measure, is un-American and un-republican.

I have always voted with my party on all measures of interest to labor, and my record and that of the party needs no apology. Mr. Compers, as is well known, is a democrat, and has been on the stump in every democratic campaign in recent years. The information which he has furnished Mr. Burroughs is the same as he has furnished every democratic candidate for Congress in the last two elections. I have answered from the stump in the last four years in this district all of his propositions. It is but another and I hope the "last straw" in the Burroughs campaign of misrepresentation.

Sincerely, C. A. SULLOWAY.

The Observer

ELLIS IS THE MAN

By George E. Palfreys of Cornish. "Tune—'Marching Through Georgia.' Come wake our old New Hampshire boys, We have another song, And through the cities and the towns We'll send the news along. For we are looking for a man— A man that's true and strong For a Governor of New Hampshire.

Chorus

Hurrah Hurrah, for Ellis is the man; Hurrah, Hurrah, we'll elect him if we can, With Lewis in the senate, friends, That is what we plan. For our beautiful New Hampshire.

We want a man whom we can feel The best he can will do, A man whom we can honor as We do the Boys in Blue. A man whom we have confidence To always will be true To our beautiful New Hampshire.

We are looking for a statesman, Friends, A man whose plans are sound, Who stands upon the principal That equal rights abound. Who'll see in every law that's passed That justice shall be found For our beautiful New Hampshire.

We want a man who doesn't claim He's better than the rest, Who when we look his record up, We find it is the best. Because the way to know what's good 's only by a test In our beautiful New Hampshire.

Then join our band and sing our song We'll take it to the sea; And when the primaries are held We'll have a victory. And find that those who shout for Bass Have taken to a tree In our beautiful New Hampshire.

The following dispatch in a Boston paper should be read in Portsmouth: "Ask the candid high school teacher what is the trouble in three cases out of four that the scholar gets poor marks or drops down and out, and the answer will be in just one word, 'distraction.' " declared Dr. H. Sterling Pomeroy of Boston before the Sagamore Beach Moral and Religious conference recently.

"Ask the candid family physician what is usually behind a nervous breakdown among the high school scholars, and first and foremost he will tell you over-excitement, too little sleep, too much 'fudge,' " he declared. "In general a high school dance means late hours, glaring lights, hot rooms, seductive music, great excitement, almost invariably the presence of some young men who are not fit to look upon your daughters, much less touch them. Then there is the late and indigestible supper, and often the return home solely under the escort of some young man, perhaps a stranger to the young girl except for the acquaintance of the evening."

Dr. Pomeroy said the average high school scholar had scarcely time to attend to half the duties, responsibilities and advantages of the family, the church, Sunday school, general neighborhood interests and the high school and that secret societies meant a waste of energy. Let the mothers and fathers of Portsmouth read and ponder over the above.

Portsmouth has certainly been a lively place politically the past two weeks, but it took Candidate Burroughs to wake "em" up in good shape. Portsmouth likes the looks of that young man and he should get a handsome vote here.

The Herald has received no less than fifty letters commending its stand in this column that the police should enforce the law in relation to encumbering sidewalks. The next thing in order after the police give some attention to that is to open up Congress street for foot passengers on Saturday evenings.

The boys of the U. S. S. Tennessee are about as clean and bright a set of boys that have ever worn the blue about Portsmouth. In public places they conduct themselves to the credit of the uniform and are welcome.

Those who fear that there will be a tight vote at the primaries are to get a surprise on Tuesday. Portsmouth is thoroughly interested in the present campaign.

It is beginning to dawn on some local people that this old city by the sea is about ready to demand a "clean up" and before many weeks a move will be made that will convince the powers that it is wise to heed the call of the people.

One of the interesting parts of Candidate Burroughs' speech the other evening was to note how strongly he advocated the rebuilding of this navy yard on the lines as suggested day in and day out by the Herald. It is the intention of the Herald to keep "plugging" away until this naval station takes its proper rank and it will demand the "heads" of public men here that fail to do their full duty.

One of the oldest schooners on the coast was in the big fleet recently in port, the Chatham, built in 1832. In spite of this and the fact that she is only 77 tons register, she frequently makes voyages around Cape Cod.

The ancient schooner New Boxer, which joined the crippled Gama Goek on the flats a few days ago, was for some time sailed single-handed by her seventy-year old skipper Capt. Candage of Southwest Harbor Me. Her birthplace is near here for she was built at Wells in 1845. Her present name seems somewhat malapropos but she was given it in 1833, when she was rebuilt. She was originally known as Boxer and this is not the first time that she has been on the flats of Pepperrell Cove for a "mud caking."

ONE WAY OUT

A Resident of Portsmouth Shows the Way

Only one way to cure a bad back. Liniment and plasters may relieve it.

They won't cure it. Backache means sick kidneys. Doan's Kidney Pills cure all kidney ills.

Portsmouth people prove this. Read a case of it:

Joseph C. Pettigrew, 12 Islington street, Portsmouth, N. H., says: "I can conscientiously recommend Doan's Kidney Pills to any one suffering from backache or kidney complaint. My first experience with this remedy took place about three years ago. At that time my back ached a great deal, I had dizzy spells and was bothered by a blurring of my sight. I finally decided that I had kidney trouble and procured Doan's Kidney Pills at Philbrick's Drug Store. I had taken them but a short time before there was a great improvement in my condition."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

MR. URCH ON MR. SULLOWAY

Thinks His Service to Aid Veterans Overrated -- Would Not Help Discharged Veterans.

Editor Herald:

Dear Sir:—In view of the many pertinent questions relating to Cyrus A. Sulloway, "grand" and "untiring" efforts for, and in behalf of, this national station, and particularly the war veterans, "boys in blue" of this congressional district, appearing in communications to the Herald, written the past few days, and addressed by a local writer to Sherman E. Burroughs, candidate for Congress from this district, such as:

"Don't you think that, whatever else Speaker Cannon has done, he did a good thing when he appointed as chairman of the federal pension committee, the Hon. Cyrus A. Sulloway?"

"Was that a good appointment or not? Was that a good honor to come to the congressman in this little New Hampshire district, or was it not?"

"Another question for you to answer which is very much to the point, is, has Mr. Sulloway proven to be a good chairman of that pension committee?"

"If you answer that he has been a good chairman of that committee and done a grand work, then will you please answer why you should kick him out?"

"Do you not believe that one of the grandest duties which this great nation has to perform, is to keep its solemn pledges made to the 'boys in blue'?"

"Have you ever heard anybody say Mr. Sulloway wasn't just the man for the work he was doing on this pension committee? Has he been stingy and mean with the widows and orphans? Has he neglected their bills to play golf or tennis?"

"Why don't you tell the people in your speeches and advertisements that Mr. Sulloway has been in congress sixteen years, and is poorer to day in money than the day he entered Congress?"

"Why don't you tell the people of your district that you can never hope to do half as much for the Portsmouth navy yard, for instance, as Mr. Sulloway has done?"

"Why is it that the forests all of a sudden are of so much more importance than the veterans, their widows and orphans?"

In the same inconsistent communication to Mr. Burroughs the local writer, while calling the new candidate "a strong personal friend" of his, belittles in almost every paragraph of his public letter, the abilities, powers, influence, etc., of Sherman E. Burroughs, and scoffs at his courage and ambition in seeking the office of membership in the National House of Representatives, at the same time admitting that he, the writer, "was very anxious that you—Mr. Burroughs—should run for governor, and further on admits that the latter 'is probably the strongest active man in the progressive faction of the party has developed in this state.'"

In view, we repeat, of all the above, it were well we think that some of our navy yard employees, especially those of the veteran element thereof, and still more to the point, those of the latter formerly employed at this station, but now and for many years last past kicked off the yard, and in their old age and perhaps poverty and infirmities forced to find work elsewhere, should hear even a puny effort from the other side.

A few years ago we had a commandant at this station who by general report and his every act thereon, backed by a few of his cringing underlings, spoke in damning disfavor of veteran employees in general and backed by such a power, in spite of President Roosevelt's order thereon that veterans should have the preference in employing and discharging at naval stations, dozens of veterans were discharged. Many of them solely, so far as we could ascertain, because they were veterans.

So continuous, and so evidently unjust, and so clearly against all established rules and orders, did it become, that Storer Post, No. 1, of this city, took up the matter and appointed a labor committee to "investigate all complaints of discharged veterans submitted," "to select therefrom a few test cases and the testimony and evidence thereon," "to ask a hearing from the said commandant," and "failing to get satisfaction, to go over his head, and carry our case to higher officials."

The undersigned with one or two other members of Storer Post were the appointees.

We obtained audience by appointment into the august presence of this veteran's confessed enemy, "Why? Because though old enough, and covered with brass buttons, braid and false glory, he, unlike the humble veterans that he had marked for discharge, and were there with us, had never lost former activity to labor while defending his country's flag! Had never—as they had—endured the sapping vicissitudes of war! Had never even sniffed gunpowder except when fired as a salute in honor to his august (?) and egotistical self."

Our audience and hearing closed by a wave of the great commandant's hand, and the announcement that his decision in the two cases allowed to be submitted would be sent us in a few days.

The decision came. It was not only against the cases of the discharged veterans submitted, but against every veteran employee on the yard, especially if they had become pensionable. The appeal to a higher official together with all the papers, affidavits, sworn testimony, etc., was placed by the said committee in the hands of the undersigned, and in furtherance thereof we naturally sought the aid of Cyrus A. Sulloway, our congressman.

We found him alone, and unoccupied, seated upon a settee at Cutler's hotel, at Hampton beach. After a friendly greeting we opened upon the subject of our mission and produced our bundle of papers upon the subject, but was held up in less than one minute by Mr. Sulloway with this abrupt interruption, "There Urch, go and tell your story to George Bailey (his secretary) and if there is any thing in it we'll look it over when we get to Washington."

We left our "ever active" and "untiring" veteran champion, and found his secretary, Mr. Bailey, at the back end of the plaza with a number of old veterans, who had previously gotten theirs from their "Idol"—should be spelled "idle"—congressman, by getting referred to "George," by Cyrus.

After a wait of some two hours during which time he never left his seat except for a few minutes at a time, we got the private attention of Mr. Bailey, to whom we submitted our many and justifiable grievances, and left all our papers in his possession for "Cyrus" to look over when he got time (?)

What was the result? We never heard a word from either Mr. Sulloway or Mr. Bailey, neither have we ever seen the papers in the case since.

A year or two later other evidence relating to unjust discharges of veterans was placed in our hands by members of Storer Post, one of whom was a veteran of my own ward and a friend, and once more in behalf of veterans, we spent much time and effort in securing support and evidence for their unanswerable claims, and was advised, and it appearing the only thing to do, we again sought our congressional representative, this time at York Beach.

We landed with a bundle of documents, in behalf of local veterans, upon the "Golden Rod" platform, and, Oh Joy! there was coming down the steps of a near-by hotel the man we were anxiously seeking, Cyrus A. Sulloway.

A few moments later we sat by his side. He enquired about politics, etc., and I opened the subject of my journey and mission, but had not gone far enough to give him hardly the import of my story before he met it with this assertion: "Urch, I have come over here to get away from all these complaints and grievances and get a little rest. That is all I hear in Manchester or wherever I go. Some other time I'll give my attention to your matter, but can't now!"

Such, Mr. Editor, is one man's experience of Mr. Sulloway's "untiring," "magnificent" and "unceasing" effort in behalf of the veteran soldier.

On the other hand, the undersigned had the honor to be a member of the legislature of our state when Sherman E. Burroughs was undeniably the title of being one of a few,—if not the very—ablest, most alert, and eloquent members of the house. Liked by all his associates for his manly character, his uniform courtesy and his universal ability as a leader upon every subject upon which he was called upon to speak.

So generally were these and other attributes acknowledged that the senate was adjourned at times, that its members might not miss his appeals in advocacy of, or in opposition to, measures of public import.

Most respectfully submitted, in the spirit of "fair play,"

DAVID URCH.

NOMINATE SHERMAN E. BURROUGHS

For sixteen years this newspaper has given Cyrus A. Sulloway of Manchester its loyal support and the editor of this paper for twenty years has stood by him and today he still cherishes the kindest feelings toward him.

The campaign has progressed to the point where it is time to size up the situation as it really is and to look at it in the interest of Portsmouth, for which this newspaper stands and also for the entire state, and after due deliberation The Herald believes that Sherman E. Burroughs should be the nominee of the Republican party, and that it is for the best interests of Portsmouth and vicinity that he should be. For the following reasons:

- 1.—The district requires an active and energetic man.
- 2.—The coming four years means much to Portsmouth in securing appropriations for this navy yard, and Burroughs is better fitted to do the work. While Sulloway has been willing he has not the diplomacy and make up to do things.
- 3.—The district demonstrated that it wanted a change when Colonel A. N. Elwell came within two votes of the nomination; but with the picked delegates Sulloway won.

- 4.—The nomination of Eugene Reed of Manchester by the Democrats is another strong reason why Burroughs and not Sulloway, should be nominated in order that a young and active man should be on the firing line in a campaign which will prove a severe test for the party's success this year.

- 5.—Mr. Burroughs is a man acceptable to all Republicans, Progressives, Bourgeois, Stand-Patters, Middle of the Road, etc., for the reason that he is fearless, honest and for the people.

- 6.—A man should be elected to Congress with the ability to work for New Hampshire without fear or favor.

- 7.—The American people have demanded that Cannon must go, and Burroughs will aid in carrying out the wishes of the people.

It is sometimes hard to differ with old friends, and go astray, but the editor of this paper has but one mission—to do all he can for the best interests of this community at all times and his endorsement of Burroughs is without solicitation and with only a slight acquaintance with Mr. Burroughs; but from his conduct in previous campaigns he has found him a fighter and one of ability to do things and that is what the district requires. With the New Hampshire delegation in Congress, made up of Gallagher, Burroughs, Carrier and Burroughs, Portsmouth and the state would be better off.

The Herald believes that a man of the Burroughs type would make it easier for the success of this naval station, which is the foundation of Portsmouth's future prosperity, and our people well know that the editor of this paper has the best interest of the Portsmouth navy yard always at heart.

As to Mr. Sulloway's claim to service for the veterans, the editor of The Herald believes that every veteran of the war and his family should be pensioned—whether he incurred a disability during the war or not—if he asks for one; and a law should be on the statute books with just such a provision. Sherman E. Burroughs will, if elected, not only do full justice to the veteran, but to the best interests of the state.

"Cy" has had sixteen years and he should have retired this year, and he would have, had it not been for the selfish interests of a few.

There are to be a great many changes in Congress this year and the first district should have a bright, young, keen hustler there to get in with the new ones.

The New Piano Question

This is a subject that sooner or later arises in almost every household. When it makes its appearance there is apt to be a discussion; also a whole lot of bombastic talk by salesmen who know more about the price of their goods than they do about their quality. Whenever this subject comes up in your family, remember that it is far wiser to buy a known and really good piano at a fair price, than to buy an unknown make at any price. The good reliable and well known pianos are to be found at my store. Forty-five years of honorable dealing is your guarantee of safety if you trade here.
